Garvey Sends Famous August Message to Militant Negroes

If Our Money Is Good Enough, Our Boys and Girls Are Good Enough, Rev. Abbott Preaches

This Simple Proposition Is Based Not On Prejudice But Only Upon Cooperation

ST. LOUIS, Mo.—Last Sunday at Union Memorial M. E. church, before a large congregation, Rev. B. F. Abbott, the pastor, preached a sermonette on "Spend Your Money Where You Can Work." He said:

"This matter of spending our dollars where we can get a return in employment is fundamental in our group success. It is a simple proposition that is not based on prejudice but co-operation. All groups, except the Negro, have always spent their money where it gives the greatest return and the waking up to this fundamental plan on the part of Negroes is the most significant move made in years. We have had all sorts of campaigns, but none of them are as important as this campaign for jobs. The St. Louis American, the newspaper that is leading the campaign here in St. Louis not only needs to be congratulated but should be supported. It is rendering a very valuable service to the city, to white as well as black.

"The idea of making one's support off of one group and giving employment to another is an insult that we don't have to suffer. We have always been impartial in our trading, but since the other man refuses to reciprocate, we must be partial in our demands. In the stores where we trade we should see to it that our boys and girls, our own kind, are given a chance to earn an honest living. If our money is good enough then our boys and girls must be good enough to earn a living. Money goes back. If only each one of you will (Continued on Page Eight)

White Man Gets 15 Years for Killing Negro

First of Seven Atlantans Indicted for Divinity Student's Death

Atlanta, Ga.—T. L. Martin, one of seven white men charged with the murder of Dennis Hubert, young Negro college student, was found guilty of voluntary manslaughter in a sealed verdict returned by a jury in Superior Court here today.

The jury set sentence from 12 to 15 years in the State penitentiary.

The youth, a divinity student, was shot to death on June 15 at a public school.

The State charged he was killed without provocation by a party of seven men, while the defense pleaded that the men went to the school grounds to hold the Negro for officers after he was alleged to have insulted two white women.

The case aroused unusual interest here because of events following the slaying. Within a short time the home of the Rev. G. J. Hubert, father of the youth, was burned. A few days later a mass meeting of Negroes held in a church was broken up with a tear gas bomb, which police said was hurled by white men. A few days later an attempt was made on the life of the Rev. Charles B. Hubert, cousin of Dennis.

After the burning of the Hubert home, prominent white residents of Atlanta gathered and signed a letter to civic organizations and civic leaders, asking contributions for the restoration of the home. Many persons contributed.

The letter also declared emphatically the belief of the signers that the young Negro was innocent of the charge of insulting the white women.

Abyssinian Ras Tafari Writes American Negro

Thanks for Sharing Sorrow at death of Empress Zauditu

(Editor's Note:—We reprint for the benefit of our readers two letters that we feel are of vital importance because of their racial relationship.)

1346 Newton St., Los Angeles, Calif. April 5, 1930.

H. M. E. Majesty, King-Empress, Ras Tafari, Addis Abbeba, Ethiopia.

Sire: May it please Your Most Excellent Majesty:

I, on behalf of myself and family, and the seventy thousand black people of Los Angeles, California, U. S. A., tender to Your Most Excellent Majesty our deep sympathy and consolation on the occasion of your profound sorrow, caused by the death of Her Most Excellent Majesty, the Empress Waizeru Zauditu, at Addis Abbeba.

May Your Most Excellent Majesty soon recover from the shock caused by the death of our beloved Empress. The black people of Los Angeles too share with thee thy sorrow and grief in these trying days of thy grief.

And may Your Most Excellent Majesty be spared in health to continue to guard our motherland, Ethiopia, from European designs on her territory. And may it please Your Most Excellent Majesty to receive these words of sympathy, while I remain.

Obedient to His Most Excellent Majesty: (Signed) HILTON A. PHILLIPS.

Religious Riots in Liverpool Rage On

Protestant Mob Breaks Before Catholic Presbytery Before Police Arrive

LIVERPOOL, England.—A new outbreak in the sectarian quarrel between Protestants and Catholics occurred tonight after police had quelled fighting at the law courts this morning. A crowd in the Netherfield Road section, which is strongly Protestant, stoned a Catholic presbytery, breaking many windows.

The police dispersed the crowd, arresting three persons. Three women had been taken before the magistrate this morning charged with disorderly conduct, and will be heard tomorrow.

The trouble at the courts arose over the arrest of several other persons in connection with fighting last night between rival adherents of the two faiths, after it had been rumored that Dr. Richard Downey, Roman Catholic Archbishop of Liverpool, would visit a new presbytery nearby.

After a night of ceaseless vigilance, with hundreds of police patrolling the streets and ambulances parked for emergencies, fighting in the Netherfield Road area was resumed today in police court where several persons arrested for yesterday's disturbances were being brought before a magistrate and held for trial.

Outside the court building a huge crowd gathered, divided into two factions which boomed and shouted at each other when the prisoners appeared.

The troubles started at the doors of the court room, where several women took the initiative, jostling the (Continued on Page Eight)

To Make Grand Preparations for Our Next Convention in August 1931— Let Us Keep All Traitors Out

Fellowmen of the Negro Race, Greeting:—

As President-General of the Universal Negro Improvement Association, I think it is necessary to give an explanation as affecting the good and welfare of the Organization at this time. As head of the movement it is my duty to so act as to conserve the interest of the Organization at all times. In keeping with this, I have, since the rising of our Convention of 1929, allowed certain persons whom I held in grave suspicion to prove by their acts whether they were sincere or not in the effort to advance the cause to which we pledge ourselves.

MISTAKES OF PAST

The mistakes of the past have acted as valuable experiences to prevent us from carelessly entering into the same blunders again. It was with that in view that there was a delay in immediately putting forward certain things we decided on at the Convention. Our judgement in that respect was not at fault because we are now satisfied that several of the men whom we would have had to work with in executing the Convention program were dishonest, dishonorable and insincere.

SMALL SELFISH CLIQUE

During the Convention there was a disposition among a small group of men to have things their own way. The Convention decided to the contrary; but these men under the leadership of Mr. E. B. Knox have been trying ever since to usurp the authority of the Convention. The result is that we have had to dismiss Mr. E. B. Knox from the position of First Asst. Pres-General and warned the public against him and those closely identified with him.

A SET SCHEME

There was a scheme to use the new programme of the Organization to fatten their pockets and at my expense, hence the desire to establish a headquarters in Chicago when the Convention decided that it should be in Jamaica. The desire to interfere with the ruling of the Convention was only to put a few scheming men in position where they would control the finances of the Organization and use them to their own purposes, whilst readily hiding themselves under my being President-General, thereby escaping the responsibility that should have fallen upon them. This was the same trick they played on me in the Black Star Line, the Black Cross Navigation and Trading Co., and other activities of the Organization and therefore I am determined not to allow them to play the same game again.

KNOX'S DEEDS

It may be surprising to the members to know that since Mr. Knox has been elevated to the position of First Asst. Pres-General, he has collected thousands of dollars while he has never reported one penny to the Parent Body, and in continuation has tried to collect large sums of money from the Negro World. The condition was such that we had to take immediate steps to stop him before going on with his scheme. And those associated with him, giving him aid and succor shall be considered as working against the Universal Negro Improvement Association. Any Division that entertains any person who assists him out of the Funds of the Universal Negro Improvement Association shall also be expelled permanently. There is only one way to deal with a man like Mr. Knox and that is to summarily put him down. He has shown no disposition to be honest with the Organization and we have had enough experience to place us on guard against such persons. His Chicago Conference was only a scheme to intrigue others, and to impress them that he was doing something for them, so that he could continue to get monies from them without reporting to the Headquarters. There is but one headquarters and one President-General, and how any Divisional President could allow himself to be persuaded to attend such a conference without finding out whether it was authorized, I cannot say.

THANKS TO MEMBERSHIP

I have however to return humble thanks to the rank and file of the Organization for the loyal manner that they supported the Parent Body from the assumptions of Mr. Knox. There are other men associated with him to fleece the Organization. It is for that reason that no one must be entertained except bearing properly signed credentials from the Parent Body. There has been too much reckless exploitation of the Divisions by supposed representatives of the Parent Body who are representing Mr. Knox and who never reported to the Parent Body any of their activities.

LINING UP FOR WORK

The Universal Negro Improvement Association is lining up for its great world programme. Hitherto we thought best that we be careful not to go forward with men of the Knox type. But we now feel free to launch out in a big drive, feeling safe that we have in our ranks people that we can trust. Let everybody do his best. Let everyone rally to the Programme at this time. Keep the enemy on the outside; keep the schemes locked out, and let all of us be determined to go forward with a grand and glorious programme. Wherever members are in doubt it is preferable to deal directly with the Parent Body because we have suffered long by the duplicity and cunning of the many sharpers. We are hoping for a grand and glorious future, and all of us must hope (Continued on Page Two)

Austrian River Flows Back; Lake Recedes

LINZ, Austria. The amazing spectacle of a river flowing backward was beheld by vacationists here yesterday.

The waters of Lake Atter, where President Miklas of Austria is spending his holiday, receded and the strange phenomenon caused the Ager River, which has its source in the lake, to start flowing backward.

Many boats on the lake and at the mouth of the river were stranded. The hydrographic institute said the occurrence had no connection with the Italian earthquake.

7 Governors of Southern States Score Lynching

Seen as Slap to Senator Bleasdale Who Upheld The Monstrosity

Senator Cole Bleasdale's statement of two weeks ago to the effect that he sanctioned lynching, has stirred the South considerably. The South Carolina senator made his statement during his campaign tour of the State. Changing as it did on the heels of several lynchings in various sections of the South, southern leaders realized that the Senator's statement, if permitted to go unchallenged, would possibly lead to more outrages.

Bleasdale's statement was made in a session of South Carolina where a lynching had recently occurred and was as follows: "Whenever the Constitution comes between me and the virtue of the white women of South Carolina, I say to hell with the Constitution."

Southern Governors were asked to state their views on the crime of lynching. Seven of them replied with vigorous statements denouncing the crime, despite the fact that lynchings have recently occurred in three of the States presided over by Governors who issued statements.

Southern Governors were asked to sign the year-long period last year. No particular reason can be ascribed for this increase.

The statement of the seven governors was as follows: "The Governor of Virginia, I think lynchings is barbarous. While I am governor of Virginia, every power vested in me by (Continued on Page Eight)

Caucasian Crusade New Title of K.K.K.

Members of Secret Organization are "Caucasian, White and of True Blood"

ATLANTA, Ga.—With the utmost secrecy, an undetermined number of men, "Caucasian, white and of true blood," being invited to affiliate with an organization called the "Caucasian Crusade." It is supported, ostensibly, by seven widely known Atlantans whose past activities and known sympathies indicate the organization is intended as a vast, new edition of the Ku Klux Klan.

The seven sponsors, whose names are signed to a printed letter, include a reputed founder of the original Ku Klux Klan, a Georgia Congressman, a former Congressman and noted criminal lawyer, a veteran Atlanta private, a physician who operates a private sanatorium, a sheriff and a wealthy undertaker.

The Klan itself, revived with flourishing auspices eleven years ago by William Simmons, has virtually expired as a going concern because of adverse public sentiment and unfavorable publicity over the nation.

Simmons, under a contract with the Klan, which was to provide him with a substantial salary for life, sold out his contractual for $100,000. Since then the Klan has declined steadily in prestige, leaving conditions ripe for a successor organization embracing the requisite emotional attractions, yet offering fresh banners.

"Caucasian Crusade" is believed by those familiar with its organic leadership to be ready to step into the place (Continued on Page Eight)

WORCESTER, So. Africa.—There was a stir in Court this morning when three more arrests were effected in connection with the meeting of the African National Congress held at Worcester yesterday.

The courtroom was crowded when Prof. James Thaele, president of the congress, appeared for preparatory examination on a charge of contravening the Riotous Assemblies (Amendment) Act of 1930 by holding a public meeting on Sunday within an area prohibited under the Act.

Peter Vumazonke, Kennon Thaele, and Jacobus Oosthuizen (chairman of the meeting,) who were in the well of the court, were arrested and co-charged with Prof. Thaele.

Mr. J. C. van Alphen, R. M., was on the bench, and Sgts. J. M. Fenton prosecuted. The four accused were not defended.

Elements of Conflict

Capl. E. W. H. Walker, Acting District Commandant of the police in the area prohibited under the Act, relate show "all the elements of a conflict between Europeans and non-Europeans were rife in Parker street yesterday."

There had been disturbances of a serious nature at Worcester recently, he said, and over 20 people had been killed or injured. A serious state of tension still existed, and the meetings were causing hatred between the Europeans and non-Europeans.

On June 21 he had photographed a notice posted up on the gate post outside the forecourt of the Congress Hall, convening a meeting for (Continued on Page Eight)

Georgia Court Says Law Knows "No Color Line"

White Man Swallowed Glass; Says Colored Women Inspected Bottles

Atlanta.—The law takes no cognizance of race or color in Georgia, the State Supreme Court held Saturday in answering a question in a $25,000 damage suit filed by E. E. Shipp against the Atlanta Coca Cola Bottling Co.

Shipp was given judgment for $10,000 in Fulton Superior Court, but the Supreme Court held that some of the evidence and argument was improper.

In defending the case, the bottling company contended that it carefully inspected every bottle sent out from its plant and was not responsible if Shipp drank some broken glass, as he alleged in his petition.

The plaintiff's attorneys called attention to the fact that the inspector for the company were "persons of color." This evidence and reference to colored woman inspectors in the argument of counsel for the plaintiff constituted grounds for reversing the lower court, the Supreme Court ruled.

"The law takes no care as to color," the Supreme Court stated. "The law knows no color, indeed it is colorblind. The goddess of justice is represented with bandaged eyes."

Our Geography

Well kiddies, I told you last week that I had gained new pep and energy while on my vacation, and that I would have something worthwhile for you this week, and all the rest of the weeks. So this week I have decided to tell you something of our own geography.

Ethiopia (Abyssinia)

The Country. A native kingdom of East Africa separated from the Red Sea by Italian, French and British colonies; area about 350,000 square miles. It is mainly a plateau varying from 4,000 feet to 5,000 feet high. Minerals abound, including gold, silver, iron, rock salt, coal, copper and platinum.

Government. Ethiopia is an empire and its political institutions are essentially feudal.

Commerce and Industry. Ethiopia is an agricultural and grazing country of varying climate and products. In the south cotton does well, while further north, coffee is indigenous. Sugar is grown in the south and oranges, indigo and bananas are abundant. The forests produce ebony, mahogany and other hard woods, as well as acacia and bamboo. In the northwest is a district famous for cattle. The exports mainly consist of coffee, skins and hides, bees-wax, ivory, butter, rubber and herbs.

Communications. The main avenue of trade is the French-Ethiopian Railway which runs from the port of Djibouti, in French Somaliland to the Ethiopian capital, Addis Ababa, a distance of about 450 miles. In the west and north, goods are exported via Khartoum.

Principal Towns. The principal towns are Addis Ababa, the capital, Harar, Adowa, Gondar, Ankeba and Gambela.

Civil Service News

Compiled By The New York Academy of Business

Here we are at the last week of the year. Hasn't it been a record month for examinations and appointments? It has far exceeded our expectations and prophecies. The Fall also promises to be a record season for examinations. We are listing a few of the many examinations expected this Fall.

Customs Inspector. Examination for Aug. 23. Open to men and women from 23 to 45 years of age. Receipt of applications closes Aug. 8, at the Custom House, N. Y. C. The work is largely weighing, gauging and measuring dutiable merchandise. The examination will consist of mental tests and practical questions on tariff Act and Customs regulations. File your applications now.

Bookkeeper, Gr. 2 (Male). Applications to be issued early in August. Open to men only of 21 years or over. Salary (entrance) $1500 a year. There are several vacancies, and a large number of immediate appointments are expected from this list. The City is badly in need of men bookkeepers, and this column advises our young men bookkeepers to consider this examination very seriously.

Clerk, Gr. 2. This examination will not be held before late in September or early in October. The written examination will be largely of the short-answer type, and the General paper, which will include questions on City Government and Office Routine, is expected to be the first, rated 70 per cent. is required on each subject. Court Attendant (Magistrates), Children's, Municipal, Special Sessions and City Courts. Salary $2000 to $2700 a year. No experience required. Age 21 and up. Minimum height for men, 5 ft. 6 in., for women, 5 ft. 2 in. This examination is expected to be held in October.

The following examinations have also been ordered by the City, and will also be held early in the Fall.—Inspector of Tenements, salary $1800 to $2760 a year; Parole Officer (Male and Female) salary $2000 a year, age 21 to 60. A high school education or its equivalent is required for this examination. There are at present 50 vacancies, and a very large number of immediate appointments are expected from the list.

7 Southern Governors Score Blease's Stand

law will be used to prevent any such blot on our civilization. My predecessors in office and a vast majority of the good people of this State take the same view, and fortunately lynchings in Virginia have been very rare.

Gov. O. Max Gardner of North Carolina: "I regard lynching and every other form of mob violence not only as morally wrong in every instance, but as fundamentally destructive of the rights of every citizen. Under our system of government every man, irrespective of race, condition or crime he has committed, is entitled to a trial by jury, to be represented by counsel, and to have his guilt and punishment judicially determined in the light of the law of facts."

Gov. John G. Richards of South Carolina: "There can be no justification for lynching. This has always been my position, and since becoming governor of South Carolina, I have used every power at my command to prevent a resort to such a legal practice. I have taken an oath to support the Constitution of the U. S. and the State of South Carolina, and this I have faithfully observed, and will, of course, continue to observe as long as I am governor of South Carolina."

Gov. L. G. Hardman of Georgia: "I wish to say that I am opposed to lynching or mob violence in any form. The Constitution of our country provides for a trial by jury which is fundamental in our national constitution. The principle of mob violence is fundamentally wrong. The words of our Georgia motto are wisdom, justice and moderation."

Gov. Flem D. Sampson of Kentucky: "I am unalterably opposed to mob law in any and all cases. If a mob may settle one case it may settle all cases. The constitution of Kentucky must be respected and all the power of the State will be commanded to protect the most humble citizen in his constitutional rights, and afford any and all accused of crime a fair and impartial trial in our regularly constituted courts."

No Lynchings in Louisiana Gov. Huey P. Long of Louisiana: "I have been governor of this State for two years and no one, white or black, has been lynched during that time. The policy of my administration has been to compel an observance of the law on both sides. That is, that there can be no pardon except the authority of the State; that is, that the State administers all 'revenge' of the law after due process. I recently refused to be bludgeoned into setting an early date for a hanging to avoid a lynching, taking the stand that the customary delays would apply to all and that the State would not be rushed by a threat of violence. There was no lynching."

Gov. Dan Moody of Texas: "A lawless execution at the hands of a mob is murder under the definition of that offense in our statutes, and every participant in such an act is guilty of violating both the law of God and man. 'Every act of mob violence is a reproach to the community in which it is committed and is an undesired reflection upon the willingness of the good citizenship of the community to enforce the law through the regularly established courts of justice. Our government is one of law, and however atrocious or revolting the crime of the mob's victims may be, there can be no justification for setting aside the orderly rule of law by an unruly mob, and there is no such thing as mob justice."

Write to the Custom House, N. Y. C., for information and applications for above Federal examinations. Certifications.—In the Federal Service about 75 eligibles were appointed to the Post Office as Clerks, Carriers and Laborers. In the State Service 125 were appointed throughout the city in various positions. The City certified 200 eligibles for positions of various natures throughout the city offices.

law will be used to prevent any such blot on our civilization. My predecessors in office and a vast majority of the good people of this State take the same view, and fortunately lynchings in Virginia have been very rare.

Gov. O. Max Gardner of North Carolina: "I regard lynching and every other form of mob violence not only as morally wrong in every instance, but as fundamentally destructive of the rights of every citizen. Under our system of government every man, irrespective of race, condition or crime he has committed, is entitled to a trial by jury, to be represented by counsel, and to have his guilt and punishment judicially determined in the light of the law of facts."

Gov. John G. Richards of South Carolina: "There can be no justification for lynching. This has always been my position, and since becoming governor of South Carolina, I have used every power at my command to prevent a resort to such a legal practice. I have taken an oath to support the Constitution of the U. S. and the State of South Carolina, and this I have faithfully observed, and will, of course, continue to observe as long as I am governor of South Carolina."

Gov. L. G. Hardman of Georgia: "I wish to say that I am opposed to lynching or mob violence in any form. The Constitution of our country provides for a trial by jury which is fundamental in our national constitution. The principle of mob violence is fundamentally wrong. The words of our Georgia motto are wisdom, justice and moderation."

No Lynchings in Louisiana Gov. Huey P. Long of Louisiana: "I have been governor of this State for two years and no one, white or black, has been lynched during that time. The policy of my administration has been to compel an observance of the law on both sides. That is, that there can be no pardon except the authority of the State; that is, that the State administers all 'revenge' of the law after due process. I recently refused to be bludgeoned into setting an early date for a hanging to avoid a lynching, taking the stand that the customary delays would apply to all and that the State would not be rushed by a threat of violence. There was no lynching."

Gov. Dan Moody of Texas: "A lawless execution at the hands of a mob is murder under the definition of that offense in our statutes, and every participant in such an act is guilty of violating both the law of God and man. 'Every act of mob violence is a reproach to the community in which it is committed and is an undesired reflection upon the willingness of the good citizenship of the community to enforce the law through the regularly established courts of justice. Our government is one of law, and however atrocious or revolting the crime of the mob's victims may be, there can be no justification for setting aside the orderly rule of law by an unruly mob, and there is no such thing as mob justice."

Liberian Women Want King Removed From the Presidency

The following dispatch was sent to the Afro-American of Baltimore, Md., by mail, which we reproduce with thanks to the Afro-American.—Editor.

MOROVIA, Liberia.—A demand that President King and the present regime be displaced by a provisional government should charges of slavery and forced labor be substantiated by the report of the international investigating commission, was urged in a resolution passed at a mass meeting of women, called to consider the crisis the country is facing, June 17.

The women's meeting followed a meeting of men in which they "regretted their disapproval, condemnation and censure of any official of the government or any private citizen who may have participated in or profited by the illegal and forcible shipment of boys from Liberia to Fernando Po, or any other forced labor without compensation."

Mr. Carter Explains In a statement to the secretary of state, Mr. Carter is reported as explaining the mandate matter by referring to an interview he had had with Sir Ramsay MacDonald, British Premier, and Sir Samuel Whitby, while on a recent visit in London, in which they intimated that some of the greater powers would finally be forced to take over Liberia. In calling this to the attention of President King and the U. S. State Department, the charge d'affaires argued that he was acting in the interest of the United States government and that if taken over by any power, it should be this one.

Mr. Carter has been recalled and Mr. Hall appointed, ad interim.

White Brothers to Die For Killing Negroes

Atlanta, Ga. The Georgia Supreme Court has affirmed the death verdict given two white brothers, Harvey and Wayman Embury of Oconee County, for the killing of an elderly Negro couple, Mr. and Mrs. Doc Elbert, in decisions handed down on July 21 and 25.

Wayman's conviction was affirmed on Monday, Harvey's on Saturday. Another white youth, Raymond Cooper, tried jointly with the Embury brothers, was convicted and given a life sentence.

They lured Doc Elbert from his cabin and beat and stabbed him to death last year. Then they returned to the cabin, cut his wife's throat and stole their savings.

New Trial Wipes Out Negro's Death Sentence MOBILE, Ala.—History was made in this city recently when a jury of white men returned a verdict freeing Julie Williams of a rape charge after a hot trial.

Williams, who lives in Citronville, a suburb of Mobile, was arrested the latter part of March after a white woman had been assaulted on a trolley road here. He was indicted by the grand jury and at an earlier trial was sentenced to die in the electric chair.

Immediately following the verdict of the jury in the first trial Judge Grayson, who presided at the verdict aside at the motion of Williams' attorneys, William V. McDermott and Charles C. Hand, both white, who said that they had discovered new evidence to show that the condemned man was not guilty.

The personnel of our store in the colored district measures up to all the standards we require," said Mr. Neisner. "The girls are neat, alert, intelligent, loyal, and seemingly in love with their work. Ability knows no color line, and we regard the patrons of a neighborhood from which we draw support entitled to the employment opportunities."

CHICAGO.—Expressing the opinion that the experiment of using colored girl salesgirls in their 47th street store had proven a decided success, J. M. Neisner, treasurer of Neisner Brothers, Inc., of Rochester, N. Y., the chain store magnate, after a tour of inspection of the busy establishment, said that wherever their organization had stores similarly situated, the same policy would be followed. Neisner Brothers have five employees in their 47th street store, all but six of whom are colored.

tended in spite of strong opposition from their mates. In some cases, it was said, husbands threatened to put them out of their homes should they attend. They attended, however.

That Liberian citizens fear that the American government might take over the affairs of the Liberian republic, was indicated in the leading address made at the women's meeting by Miss Irene A. Cant. "This, every citizen would consider a calamity."

It was reported recently that in a conversation with President King, Henry Carter, white, American charge d'affaires at Monrovia, had intimated that the American government might take such a step in view of conditions likely to be indicated by the international commission report. On June 10, however, the United States denied that there had been any change of policy as to Liberia.

If Our Money Is Good, So Are Boys and Girls

Charles H. Thurpin, who is one of the pioneers in St. Louis in this movement for jobs where Negroes spend their money, gave a sketch of the work already done in three months of the campaign. He pointed out the 8 milk wagon drivers now employed by the St. Louis Dairy, the only colored in the country. Chicago included, and the clerks employed by Kroger Grocery Company. All of these men are making good and others are to be added. He estimated that more than 200 jobs have already been given colored here as the result of the campaign that is being conducted by the St. Louis American and other organizations.

Prof Thaele of South African Congress Nabbed

Later that evening another notice had been substituted, with an addendum—No Europeans would be admitted over the furrow, as it was congress property.

Yesterday afternoon he again visited Parker street, at 2:35 p. m., and saw that the congress meeting was in progress at the back of the hall, about 15 to 20 paces from the street.

The meeting was not religious, and the four accused spoke on different occasions. At 5 o'clock he estimated that 100 people were attending the meeting. People were coming and going freely through the gateways. There had no gates and there appeared to be no check on the people entering the grounds. Occasionally a few non-Europeans in uniform of a nondescript character stood at the gateways.

Parker street was full of people, said Captain Walker. "There were no fewer than 800 people there, and the remarks of the speakers were quite audible to those in the street. I heard Ministers of State and the Police referred to in contemptuous terms. Some of the Europeans showed signs of restiveness, and took affront at what was being said. Many of the Europeans were armed with revolvers. "I could tell by their attitude I had continually to move them back, and break up the crowd. All the elements of serious conflict against authority and between Europeans were present."

"At 5 o'clock the Europeans closed in on the platform. I
